Hitler was educated, intelligent and well read. His cultural, political and military knowledge was beyond average, and in some cases highly advanced.

The people didn't vote Hitler in to make war, on Russia, Western Europe or the Jews. That came later.

Hitler knew race couldn't develop without war and living space. These were the conditions he pushed for, not just a restoration of Germany and funding of German Nationalism, or even destroying the enemy that was Jewish Bolshevism and Capitalism, but the future development of the German, Nordic and Aryan race, well into the future.
